VESSEL STARTS LONG JOURNEY TO ANTARCTIC

Far South Expedition Gets Under Way Without Fanfare

WANT TO CLAIM LAND

Think Residence For Five Or Six Years Would Give Right

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Without the slightest fanfare, the first half of Uncle Sam's first Antarctic expedition in 100 years sailed away from frigid Boston today on the first leg of the long journey to the frozen southland.

Just before dawn (6:14 a.m., eastern standard time) the motorship North Star loaded down with everything from food to phonograph records from sled dogs to a 27-ton snow cruiser—cast off her lines at the army base and sailed quietly down the harbor en route to Philadelphia.

As the goodbyes were said, the farewell ceremonies completed, the final kisses exchanged yesterday and with the declaration that he believed Little America might provide a new and "safer" base for a United States-Australian air trail, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, the expedition's leader, gave the signal for the takeoff.

After a halt in the outer harbor to make compass adjustments, the North Star's next stop was to be Philadelphia to pick up some airplanes. After that she will head for Panama, then for New Zealand and finally for the expedition's west base in the Antarctic.

Next week the second ship in the expedition, the Barkentine Bear, will follow the North Star on the 12,000-mile journey. They expect to keep a rendezvous about New Year's day before establishing the bases at which the explorers hope to live for about 13 months.

By "occupying the frozen lands of the south polar region" they hope to strengthen previous United States claims on the territory.

"The idea would be to continue settlement on the ice for some years, possibly five or six," Byrd said, explaining that it was hoped to make the settlement of a semi-permanent nature, depending upon the wishes of congress. The present group would be relieved by others after 13 months and although some of the first might remain down there once is enough for most men.

Also planned is further exploration—with the use of the giant snowmobile—of some 675,000 square miles of unknown territory. Byrd said 15 different branches of science would be benefitted by researches to be conducted by the expedition.

Hundreds of persons milled about the North Star as final arrangements were completed yesterday. The big snow cruiser was run on deck for the trip, wives and sweethearts of the 45 men aboard gave them their Christmas presents to be opened when the day comes, in the far off south, and Byrd grinned as he checked the 1,700-ton cargo for the last time, commenting that it might be warmer at their destination than in Boston since it would be midsummer there when they arrive.

The admiral said he expected to join the North Star either at Philadelphia or at Panama, possibly flying to make the connection.

Looking as lonely and as detached as her namesake, the rugged North Star had all the appearances of an unknown freighter as she idled at her dock in the darkness before the sailing.

A single light gleamed from her crow's nest, throwing the shadow of her rigging across the strange hulk of the snow cruiser snuggled in the forward well deck.

The whining of husky dogs, eager for their breakfast, was the only sound.

The crew was astir early, but their work of preparations had ended last night. They lounged in the galley, scoffing down black coffee, or peered over the port rail, watching the lights of Boston go out, one by one, as darkness fell away.

Skipper Isak Lystad poked his head out the bridge, sniffed the brisk November air, and called to a little group of newsmen and cameramen standing on the dock—

"It's a great morning—but no fish."

Then he tugged at the cord of the vessel's booming whistle. Three blasts—goodbye.

The motorship slid down the channel to the outer harbor. The crew unfurled an American flag from the stern as the boat headed east.

HEADS NEW TRIP

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd (above) is heading a new expedition to Little America in the Antarctic. One ship, the North Star, started on the long journey today. Another will start soon.

NO FIGHT SEEN FOR DELEGATES FOR ROOSEVELT

High Democrats Believe President Won't Allow Use Of Name

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Persons high in Democratic party councils predicted today that President Roosevelt would make no fight for Democratic convention delegates in preferential primaries next spring.

They expressed the opinion that, even if Mr. Roosevelt intended to run for a third term he would not authorize use of his name on the primary ballots in states requiring candidates' consent.

Instead they predicted he would rely on uncommitted delegates and on his chances of picking up delegations from states pledged to other candidates after they had recorded their primary-directed preferences in initial voting at the convention.

Mr. Roosevelt once more declined to shed any light yesterday on his third term intentions. At the White House press conference, a reporter mentioned the week-end announcement that Vice-President Garner's name would go before the Democratic convention.

"Does that change your plans in any way, Mr. President?" he was asked.

The president smiled and told his questioner not to be so subtle.

Senator Van Nuys, Democrat, Indiana, told reporters today that he thought Mr. Roosevelt should state immediately whether he intended to run again.

"The next election is going to be crucial," Van Nuys said, "and the party and public are entitled to this information so that they can weigh the several candidates and pick the best man in the event President Roosevelt declares he will not run.

"We need a man of poise and experience and not a candidate selected by trades and swaps in a hectic national convention."

An avowed opponent of a third term, Van Nuys coupled his comment with a declaration that any presidential attempt to designate "must" legislation in the 1940 congress would meet strong opposition from a group of senate Democrats often at odds with the New Deal.

It was learned on good authority

MURRY GUGGENHEIM, CAPITALIST, DIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Murry Guggenheim, capitalist member of the famous copper mining family, died today.

Guggenheim, long identified with philanthropic work in New York, died at his Fifth avenue home after an illness of several days. He was 81.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Leonie Bernheim Guggenheim, a son and a daughter.

With his father and three brothers, Guggenheim organized the firm of M. Guggenheim's Sons in 1881, which merged its smelting and refining branches in 1901 with the American Smelting and Refining company.

Guggenheim was a director of the Yukon Gold company, the Nevada Northern Railway company, the Utah Copper company, the Kennecott Copper company, Keno Hill, Ltd., the Minerec corporation and the Pacific Tin corporation.

Business associates said a large measure of the success of Guggenheim brothers in the metallurgical and allied fields was a result of his business sagacity and foresight.

Originally, the firm's business was concerned with the importation and sale of lace. When it changed to the mining and smelting of metals, Guggenheim became increasingly active in the business and spent much of his time at the smelters in Colorado.

GRAND JURY CALLED FOR FRIDAY MORNING

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Members of the United States grand jury here were summoned today to meet Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The grand jury had been in recess subject to call but federal officials today after the issuance of the summonses declined to give any indication of what subjects would be considered.

O. John Rogge, assistant attorney general in charge of the Louisiana "scandals" investigation, is expected to return to New Orleans next week to take the lead in preparing the mail fraud case of A. L. Shushan and four others scheduled to go to trial December 4.

President Contreras Decrees Three Days Of Mourning In Nation

CARACAS, Venezuela, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Volunteer workers searched Lake Maracaibo today for the bodies of 500 to 800 persons estimated to have died in a fire which swept the oil town of Lagunillas, a village of wooden shacks perched on stilts at the water's edge.

While the searchers paddled through floating debris and charred piling—all that remained of the shanty town which housed 2,500 natives employed in the great oil fields nearby—the government mobilized its resources to aid the survivors.

Airplanes brought scores of doctors and nurses to aid in the relief work, while additional first aid parties and supplies were rushed by boat from the other side of the lake—60 miles away. National guard detachments took over the task of maintaining order.

President Eleazar Lopez Contreras, who decreed three days of mourning throughout the nation, quickly raised a relief fund of 355,000 bolivars ($11,050), which was swelled by subscriptions taken up in many Venezuelan towns and cities.

Several years ago the Venezuelan government, with the assistance of the foreign oil companies, built a new village called Ciudad Ojeda to replace the flimsy oil-soaked Lagunillas. However, in spite of the fact the na-

JAPAN STARTS NEW OFFENSIVE IN SOUTH CHINA

Major Military Developments Promised Sooner Than In Europe

HONGKONG, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Fresh Japanese forces landed today on the Kwangtung province coast near Pakhoi and launched an assault generally viewed as the start of a new south China offensive.

Japanese headquarters, announcing that a combined army and navy force had landed at the southern port on the Gulf of Tonking, said it was pushing inland against Chinese defenders.

Pakhoi, 300 miles west of Hongkong, is just north of Hainan island, strategic base which the Japanese seized last February 10.

On teh same date, Japanese naval planes bombed Pakhoi. Inconclusive fighting has continued in the southern area.

Lending support to the belief that a broader southern offensive finally had been launched was a statement by the Japanese foreign office in Tokyo today, saying, "In connection with the operations just undertaken, the Japanese government will adhere strictly to the policy hitherto pursued toward third powers."

Pakhoi and Hainan island are near French Indo-China and have been viewed as lying within the French sphere of influence.

When the Japanese took Hainan, both Britain and France inquired as to Japanese aims and were told the occupation would continue only as long as necessary to wage war against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Britain is interested in the Gulf of Tonking area because of its proximity to the big British base of Singapore.

The Japanese offensive in north China and the Yangtze valley has been quiescent since the Chinese reported they had hurled back an elab-

PRESIDENT AND M'NUTT DISCUSS SECURITY PLANS

Disability Insurance For Workers Under Consideration

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Press of other business brought a one-day delay today to a conference between President Roosevelt and Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, on further expansion of the vast federal-state social security system.

President Roosevelt was busy writing a speech and McNutt preparing to deliver one, so their conference was postponed until tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Further expansion of the vast federal-state social security system within the present framework was the subject for a conference today between President Roosevelt and Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator.

McNutt asked for the meeting in order to ascertain how far the chief executive would be willing to go in filling what he called "obvious gaps" in the system.

The administrator would not say what specific proposals he would put forward because, he explained, "when we shoot we want to be sure what we are shooting at."

But he expressed certainty that they would not be anything like the type of pension proposals rejected recently in California and Ohio.

"We are interested in having a sound program we can pay for," he said.

McNutt's recent public utterances indicated that his suggestions to the president included:

1. A national health program, along with a plan for disability insurance for workers to supplement the existing unemployment insurance system. Mr. Wagner recommended such a program early this year, and Sen-

CREW OF SQUALUS TO BE SEPARATED

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 15.—(AP)—Thirty-two navy men, snatched from death last May after the submarine Squalus sank in 40 fathoms, bid farewell today to the ill-starred craft but make no secret of the fact that they hoped it was only to be "au revoir."

Formal orders decommissioning the submersible from service were in the hands of her commander, Lieutenant Oliver F. Naquin. His final duty on the vessel he saw carry 26 comrades on their last dive was to read the orders sending all members of the crwe elsewhere.

Naquin himself will go to San Diego and three fellow officers, Lieutenant John Nichols, Lieutenant William T. Doyle, and Lieutenant Robert Robertson, will go to the submarine base at New London.

None of the men will leave the submarine service. They will go where they are needed most—the enlisted men to New London in a group for the time being. And, to a man, they will take with them memories of the fatal plunge and the long weeks and months of salvage work before the craft was hauled into drydock. All of them want to rejoin her when she is ready to put to sea again.

As for the Squalus, she has lost all of the slimy coat she brought from the ocean bottom but there is a long period of reconditioning work ahead. Navy yard attaches said it might be a year before she would be ready to dive below the surface again.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Many gunners were in Louisiana's numerous marshes today for the opening of the duck hunting season.

Yesterday, on the eve of the season opening, 22 persons were charged in federal court here with violations of the migratory bird act.

Ducks, geese and coots may be hunted from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m.; jacksnipe, doves, rails and gallinules from 7 a.m. to sunset.

Not more than 10 ducks nor more than four geese may be killed in one day. Guns must not contain more than three shells nor can live decoys or bait be used.

Hunters must secure state licenses and federal hunting stamps.

STORY CALLED HOAX

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Russell Stoddard, 21, described by his aunt as "a sensation seeker and a headline hunter," remained in police custody today for investigation of what officers termed a hoax attempting to link him with the Chicago slaying of Edward J. O'Hare, race track president.

The clerk couldn't find any record of the license.

SAVES MONEY BY HAVING TRIPLETS

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Elmer Coon saved money by having triplets instead of just one child.

When she went to the hospital Dr. A. L. The physician said he wasn't surprised at triplets but was disappointed there weren't two more.

HERTZ DENIES PETITION FOR OPEN HEARING

TAX PROBE SOUGHT

Attorneys Want Continuation Of Interrupted 'Racket' Inquiry

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—A petition, filed November 9, for an open court hearing on law violations alleged in Orleans parish was denied here today by District Attorney Niels F. Hertz.

Hertz gave as reasons that the petition cited no names and made no specific charges against any particular person or persons.

The request was made by Attorney James J. Morrison and Moise Steeg, Jr., of counsel for seven "rebel" members of the parish grand jury who brought charges against former District Attorney Charles A. Byrne which were heard at an open hearing.

The hearing ended abruptly at the resignation of Byrne while it was threatening to dig deep into charges of a tax assessment reduction racket in New Orleans.

The petition requested open investigation of alleged tax racket, gambling, dual office-holding and other charges.

Hertz said the grand jury would carefully investigate the charges.

Hertz' formal letter replying to Morrison and Steeg stated in part:

"Gentlemen—The petition you filed with me November 9, 1939, consists of 52 large typewritten pages to which

AMERICAS WILL PLAN SOLUTION OF WAR ISSUES

United States Calls For 'Blunt And Realistic' Decisions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The United States sought today "blunt and realistic" solutions by the American republics of the economic problems arising from the European war.

The inter-American financial and economic advisory committee, appointed at the Panama conference in September, called its first meeting at the Pan-American union. Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, is the United States representative and chairman of the meeting.

Meanwhile, at Guatemala City, delegates from 18 countries are attending the first Pan-American conference of treasury representatives. There, too, problems presented by the war in Europe were under discussion.

Welles said the advisory committee, composed of technical representatives from each of the 21 republics, has "a unique opportunity to undertake a task of the highest significance and of the highest usefulness.

"It is called upon to deal with practical problems, and if it is to be successful, the solutions it recommends must in their turn be feasible and practical," he explained.

"If it points out in a practical manner the way in which existing and urgent problems affecting inter-American communications and trade can actually be solved, bluntly and realistically, it will not only have achieved the purpose for which it was created,

T. ASHLEY WRIGHT'S DEATH IS SUICIDE

RUSTON, La., Nov. 15.—(AP)—The death of T. Ashley Wright, 52, Lincoln parish legislator and superintendent of buildings and grounds at Louisiana Polytechnic institute, from a bullet wound in the head was officially held a suicide today.

Dr. J. J. Bennett, parish coroner, said the jury investigating the case for three days returned its verdict today that Wright "came to his death by a gunshot wound in the head, self-inflicted."

Wright was found mortally wounded in his office on the college grounds Saturday and died at 6 p.m. Sunday in the Ruston hospital.

E. S. Richardson, president of Louisiana Tech, announced that he would recommend to the state board of education the appointment of L. A. Woodman as superintendent to succeed Wright.

Woodman has been serving as coordinator and supervising engineer of government projects here during the past year. He graduated from the Tech school of engineering in 1938.

Richardson said Woodman had been closely associated with Wright in college work and was familiar with the duties.

ALLEGED POLL IRREGULARITIES TO BE PROBED

Judge Orders Open Hearing In St. Francisville Court

NINE FILE PETITION

Assert Woman No Longer Living In State Given Certificate

ST. FRANCISVILLE, La., Nov. 15.—(AP)—District Judge H. H. Kilbourne today ordered an open hearing into charges filed this morning by District Attorney Charles L. Munson and eight citizens that there had been irregularities in parish poll registrations.

The hearing was set for next Wednesday, November 22, at 10 a.m.

The petition alleged a 1938 poll certificate was issued from Sheriff T. L. Martin's office to a person no longer a citizen of the state. It was further asserted in the petition that additional cases of false poll book signatures could be brought out at the open hearing.

The petition charged a 1938 poll certificate had been issued last month, whereas law requires that certificates for any certain year may be issued only during that calendar year. Possession of two poll certificates for consecutive years are required as a requisite for registration for the right to vote.

The petition charged that on October 21, 1939, Mrs. Ethel Sneed, now a resident of Vicksburg, Miss., signed the poll books and was issued a receipt dated December 31, 1938.

The petition was accompanied by an affidavit signed by Mrs. Sneed attesting to the truth of the allegation and by an affidavit signed by her son, J. W. Sneed, Jr., to the effect that to his knowledge his mother was in Vicksburg, Miss., all day on December 31, 1938, the date of the receipt and the last day on which poll books could be signed for 1938.

The judge ordered as witnesses for the open hearing Mrs. Sneed and her son, Sheriff Martin, Deputy Sheriff Jim W. Daniel, who is alleged to have signed the receipt, Deputy Sheriff L. Wood Fouchaux, Deputy Sheriff Mrs. Mabel S. Martin; Mrs. Rosa Shipes, postmistress, and Mrs. L. Hopgood, a daughter of the registrar of voters.

The other petitioners asking the open hearing, in addition to the district attorney, were Louis B. Weybert, merchant; Clayton Rutledge, merchant; P. C. McGehee, filling station operator at Bains, La.; Elrie Robinson, newspaperman; W. E. Tinkler, farmer; C. E. Daniel, a former deputy sheriff, and F. O. Hamilton, merchant.

5 QUESTIONED IN O'HARE'S DEATH

Quintet Seized By Police In Midnight Raid On Paddock Club

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Investigators of the slaying of Edward J. O'Hare, wealthy turfman, held for questioning today five men seized in a midnight raid on the Paddock club in suburban Cicero, once the principal domain of the Al Capone mob.

Lieutenant Thomas Kelly and two squads of state's attorney's police visited the club not long after Prosecutor Thomas J. Courtney ordered a round-up of all Capone hoodlums for questioning in the O'Hare case.

Twenty patrons were being entertained by musicians when the squad arrived at the club, which includes a cocktail bar and rear room and an office. Lieutenant Kelly said he went there to "look the place over for angles on the O'Hare case."

He said they found a couple of pistols and a record book which will be examined. He described three of the men seized as collectors for a slot machine syndicate. The other two were described as exercise boys at Sportsman's park, the race track which O'Hare headed and which is only a few blocks from the Paddock club.

The name of Fred Young, Paddock club, Cicero, Ill., was jotted down on an envelope found on Albert Russel Stoddard, 21, in Los Angeles yesterday, but apparently as a notation rather than a return address. Seeming to connect Stoddard with the O'Hare killing, the letter was later acknowledged by the youth to have been a self-composed hoax.

State's Attorney Courtney said he was trying to determine whether O'Hare had secret connections with Capone or remnants of the Capone gang, and, if so, whether the slaying last Wednesday was ordered by mob-

CONCORDIA GROUP GOES TO RAPIDES

FERRIDAY, La., Nov. 15.—(Special)—[illegible] Thirty-five [illegible] Concordia for the [illegible] Rapides [illegible] the stage of an age [illegible] organized among the girls in Bible [illegible] have [illegible] Hour. Then [illegible] the last work [illegible] message [illegible]

The [illegible] cross of Christ [illegible] he accepted and [illegible] a large degree in the self [illegible] sinners. The [illegible] lesson occurred at 4:00 p.m.

The Training Union service was opened with prayer and a devotional by Rev. H. H. McBride. He centered his talk about the theme of prayer. Christ, he said, never instructed how to preach but rather how to pray. The last act of Christ was one of prayer, he said.

The place of prayer is one high and holy apart from the world. There is need to get away to be quiet, he said. It is time well spent, this time to be holy. And in the place of prayer there is found a place of transformation. We see ourselves anew and also our needs. The place of prayer is a place of revelation. It is where we learn the deep secrets of God. It is also a place of inspiration. When we commune with God we gain new inspiration. In the place of prayer there is where we receive the touch of the Master. The great need of today is that we have men. There is greater need than ever for the touch of God. The place of prayer is where Jesus becomes everything to his disciple. And then the place of prayer is the place of security, the power station where one gets charged with power and ability for Christian service.

The report on home missions was unanimously adopted and other business was given attention, after which E. H. Miller, Monroe, in a brief talk paid tribute to the practical value of the Baptist Brotherhood as a training school and feeder for the development of Baptist leadership in all lines. He urged the tithing of time, talents and money.

Preservation of Baptist history was urged by Rev. S. O. Oliver, Crowley. He urged churches to hold anniversaries, 50th, 100th or whatever the age may be, and to have produced at the time of such celebration all possible early history of the groups.

Rev. G. Kearnie Keegan, Alexandria, read the first three verses of the 12th chapter of Hebrews as a prelude to a hymn, "In the Valley." After this Dr. W. H. CONCORDIA GROUP GOES TO RAPIDES

FERRIDAY, La., Nov. 15.—(Special)—[illegible] Thirty-five [illegible] Concordia for the [illegible] Rapides [illegible] the stage of an age [illegible] organized among the girls in Bible [illegible] have [illegible] Hour. Then [illegible] the last work [illegible] message [illegible]

The [illegible] cross of Christ [illegible] he accepted and [illegible] a large degree in the self [illegible] sinners. The [illegible] lesson occurred at 4:00 p.m.

The Training Union service was opened with prayer and a devotional by Rev. H. H. McBride. He centered his talk about the theme of prayer. Christ, he said, never instructed how to preach but rather how to pray. The last act of Christ was one of prayer, he said.

The place of prayer is one high and holy apart from the world. There is need to get away to be quiet, he said. It is time well spent, this time to be holy. And in the place of prayer there is found a place of transformation. We see ourselves anew and also our needs. The place of prayer is a place of revelation. It is where we learn the deep secrets of God. It is also a place of inspiration. When we commune with God we gain new inspiration. In the place of prayer there is where we receive the touch of the Master. The great need of today is that we have men. There is greater need than ever for the touch of God. The place of prayer is where Jesus becomes everything to his disciple. And then the place of prayer is the place of security, the power station where one gets charged with power and ability for Christian service.

The report on home missions was unanimously adopted and other business was given attention, after which E. H. Miller, Monroe, in a brief talk paid tribute to the practical value of the Baptist Brotherhood as a training school and feeder for the development of Baptist leadership in all lines. He urged the tithing of time, talents and money.

WOMEN LIVEN UP POLITICS IN LOUISIANA

Mrs. Edith M. Frank Assails Rival Candidate For Land Office

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Women are now claiming a share of the spotlight in the Louisiana political campaign, although the five gubernatorial candidates are carrying forward intensive programs.

Mrs. Edith M. Frank of New Orleans opened her campaign for register of the state land office by promising her efforts to prevent state, parish or municipal officeholders from acquiring interests in oil leases on public lands.

Mrs. Frank, candidate on the ticket of James H. Morrison, is opposed by another woman, Lucille May Grace, the incumbent who in private life is Mrs. Fred Dent. They are the only candidates.

Miss Grace was the first woman elected to state office in Louisiana. She served previously under appointment when her father, Fred Grace, who had held the job for many years, died in office. She is endorsed both by the state administration ticket and the ticket of State Senator James A. Noe.

Mrs. Frank, speaking over radio, said that Louisiana needed a thorough, complete and universal political purge and because [illegible] man would offer himself to oppose the candidacy of Lucille May Dent. I have been urged by my numerous friends over the state at large to seek the office."

Mrs. Frank said that during the last 10 years "high-binders" have been "busy as beavers stuffing their pockets with fabulous sums of money derived from a gross and willful debauchery of the public trust."

"Where was Mrs. Dent when this luxurious grab-bag was being extended?" Did she recommend this and similar deals to the governor, or did she play the role of a stupid stooge? If she did, are you in favor of re-electing a dunce to this all-important position?"

Gubernatorial Candidates Sam Jones, Morrison and Noe were on the stump yesterday. Governor Earl K. Long announced an intensive end-of-the-week speaking tour to start Thursday in Winnsboro. He planned to appear in Monroe Thursday night, in Bastrop and Oak Grove Friday, at Epps, Delhi, Rayville and Ferriday Saturday and Plaquemine Sunday.

Percy Leary of New Orleans, independent candidate for lieutenant-governor, announced he would open speaking tour of the state at the [illegible] Sugar Cane festival in New [illegible] Thursday.

Sam Jones speaking at Kentwood continued his attacks on the state administration.

"Just to show you what crooks these people are," he said, "the first week after I announced for governor, they pictured me in the American Progress (administration newspaper) wearing a high hat and a big diamond in my shirt. The next week the diamond was gone. They had even stolen that.

Jones said he was the sponsor and original advocate of the homestead exemption law.

"I advocated homestead exemptions on December 4, 1920, and I have clippings to prove it," he said. "I spoke in favor of a mother's pension plan in 1921. I favored the old age pension four years ago when they were telling you it couldn't be done and they have never given it to you.

"Instead, they have taken the taxpayers' money and built themselves mansions on the gold coast in St Tammany and down at Thibodaux."

James H. Morrison said at Ruston that the state administration had attempted to dissuade him from entering the campaign.

After leading his "convict" parade through the streets, he took the stump and referred to his unsuccessful race for congress in the Sixth district last year.

They couldn't buy that election," he said, "so they stole it. Well, about a month before I announced my candidacy for governor, they sent a dead-head politician around to see me.

"He said the boys' consciences hurt them because of what they had done in that congressional campaign and they offered me a few thousand dollars if I would go off and strut myself."

Pledges of help to Louisiana's sugar growers and of increasing homestead exemptions from $2,000 to $5,000 were made by Noe.

Speaking over a radio hookup from KVOL at Lake Charles, Noe said that Louisiana had several industries which needed state help in solving their problems. He cited sugar, rice, strawberries and pulpwood as among those which would receive his attention and said:

"You people of Louisiana know that only one-third of the sugar used in the United States is raised in America. And right here in the sugar bowl, they plowed up this year thousands of acres of cane. Why? Because right here in Louisiana, our government, our governor and our lieutenant-governor didn't look after sugar like they ought to.

"You mean to tell me that two-thirds of the sugar used in the United States should be imported when over half of the sugar lands here are not in use."

Speaking of his record in fighting the sales tax and other levies which he declared the state administration had placed upon the people in violation of their pledges, Noe said:

"I'm going to repeal these kinds of laws and I'll tell you another thing I'm mighty glad that I'm one of the men who voted to put home exemption on.

"I'll tell you another thing I'm going to raise it from $2,000 to $5,000. You take the state of Mississippi. They haven't got resources anything like Louisiana. But they have a $5,000 home exemption."

John Delagarza, Jr., of Ponchatoula, taking the stump at Oak Grove to assail the gubernatorial candidacy of James H. Morrison, said, "There are 12,000 families in the strawberry belt on the verge of starvation."

Delagarza praised Sam Jones, Lake Charles gubernatorial candidate, but said that he is not campaigning for any candidate. He said that in speaking against Morrison he was keeping a deathbed promise to the late R. R. Rochester, Ponchatoula gubernatorial candidate who died recently, "to fight Morrison to the end."

"Morrison said he is the farmers' friend," declared Delagarza. "Morrison said he organized the strawberry growers. Morrison said that the strawberry growers are better off than ever before and made more money this past year than ever before. In the strawberry belt of this state there are 12,000 families whose living depends on their crops.

"Gentlemen, I tell you there are 12,000 families with children that are on the verge of starvation. Morrison said that he organized the Strawberry Growers' union. He did that by charging each grower $1 entry fee. He had bled them for all the dollars he could get.

"After collecting between $16,000 and $20,000, did he use this money to help the farmers? He did not. He used it to finance his race for congress last year in which he was the most badly beaten man in the state of Louisiana."

SCHOOL AND GYM IS PLANNED FOR CALDWELL PARISH

COLUMBIA, Nov. 15.—(Special)—A combination school and gymnasium building will be built by Work Projects administration at the Ward 5 school on state highway No. 17 here, according to James H. Crutcher, state WPA administrator. Scheduled to be started November 24, the project will cost approximately $27,656, of which $9,168 will be furnished by the Caldwell parish school board.

Of one-story frame construction, the building will consist of three classrooms, gymnasium and two locker rooms. Pine flooring will be installed and the campus graded and leveled to provide additional recreational areas.

ELEANOR HOLM AND ROSE HONEYMOON

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Producer Billy Rose and his aquacade star, Eleanor Holm, honeymooned at home today.

They were married yesterday in the chambers of State Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand E. Pecora with Ben Bernie, the orchestra leader, as best man and Mrs. Bernie as matron of honor.

The quiet was broken only by the popping of flash bulbs—40 photographers and reporters attended the ceremony—and three telegraph messenger boys singing "Happy Wedding to You."

Rose—who was wed under his full name, William Samuel Rosenberg—said business would keep him and his bride in New York for a while but they later would take a trip to South America.

It was the second marriage for both. The producer's divorce from Comedienne Fannie Brice became final recently. Miss Holm's first husband was Art Jarrett, orchestra leader.

FLUE CAUSES FIRE

Resulting from a defective flue, fire broke out in the one-story shingle dwelling at 1121 Grammont street Wednesday morning, but was extinguished by local firemen before much damage was done. Occupied by Cilla Wilson, negro woman, the house was said to be the property of Charlie Icknus.

GEORGIA GOLD VEIN IS BARED

New Find Expected To Run $60,000 To Ton Of Metal

DAHLONEGA, Ga., Nov. 15.—(AP)—A new gold strike, baring a lode of bonanza ore which a state geologist said assayed $60,000 a ton, was disclosed today by operators of the century-old Calhoun mine three miles south of here.

State Geologist Garland Peyton described the strike as "a vein of quartz, two inches in thickness and of unknown depth, so thoroughly impregnated with gold over approximately ten inches that it appeared as one continuous ribbon of yellow metal."

Peyton, a veteran in his field and habitually cautious in estimating mineral wealth, asserted the vein was the richest he had seen in 25 years in Georgia and "is definitely to be classed as bonanza" with an apparent richness comparable to the famous Comstock lode near Virginia City, Nev., which yielded $340,000,000 in gold between 1859 and 1890.

The geologist hastened to warn that the strike "should not create anything which may be termed a gold rush," or be considered "an invitation to the uninitiated to stampede the district with a view to other possible discoveries." In this connection it was pointed out that all land in the Dahlonega area is under private ownership, making "claim staking" impossible.

Peyton said he assisted in gouging out three miners' pans full of the ore, which he estimated as high as one-third gold.

"It was observed," he added, "that the yellow metal was still in evidence in the rock left in place, without any apparent tendency to diminish in size or richness." Rock blasted out thus far, he said, "probably constitutes the upper edge of a considerable lens of rich ore."

"It indicates quite clearly that all of the gold has not been taken out of the Georgia field, and that properly directed prospecting and exploration of depth, with adequate finance and modern equipment, may possibly uncover rich lodes and veins comparable with other famous deposits elsewhere."

The new lode is in the same mine and in the same "shoot" where the first gold lode was discovered in Georgia in 1828. The mine was worked sporadically during its history, at one time yielding approximately $1,000 per day, but later was discontinued.

Major Graham C. Dugas, veteran miner and former state representative from White county, said discovery of the new lode was a result of renewed explorations begun last August.

A United States mint, established at Dahlonega in 1838, produced gold coins valued at $6,115,569 before it was closed in 1861.

MARRIAGES

BALL-DABBS

CLAYTON, La., Nov. 15.—(Special)—Claiming the interest of friend is the announcement of the marriage of miss Thoma Dabbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Dabbs, and Mr. Jonnie J. Ball of Columbus, Ga., which was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Glendale, the country home of the bride's parents.

The ceremony was performed by H. P. Seaman, the bride's brother-in-law, in the presence of the immediate family and a few close friends.

Mrs. Ball is a graduate of the Sicily Island High school and has held a responsible position in Natchez for the past year. Mr. Ball is an army man stationed at Fort Benning. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ball left on a moter trip through south Louisiana after which they will return to Fort Benning to make their home.

It would have the [illegible] of the Mason-Dixon line were [illegible] a mechanism for [illegible]ing a man's trousers [illegible] at the [illegible] bending [illegible] unsock one [illegible] case. Sound the [illegible]. No longer need West Virginia be known as the [illegible] offspring of [illegible] even as the [illegible] of picturesque [illegible] billies, but instead as the [illegible] of rapid and streamlined dressing.

Plans of Mr. Taylor's device—patent not yet pending—were submitted to the national inventors congress in Chicago. It must have knocked 'em. Probably he is too modest to claim how great a benefactor he may be. He must know that the zero hour for many males is between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning. That is when the mere thought of stooping to don the day's habiliments has proved too much for heavy hearts and aching heads.

But with Mr. Taylor's device on hand always assuming somebody else has been kind enough to do the stooping the night before to put the garments in place, presto! Hector is himself again, or will be when fortified by a bromide or two.

After a reasonable surcease from his inventive labors, Mr. Taylor can confer a boon on parents with small, and sometimes evasive, children, by inventing a combination of automatic tooth brush and washer-behind-the-ears. It ought to be easy for a man like him.

Sailing, Sailing

Out of Gloucester heads the schooner Yankee bound for the Galapagos, Easter and Pitcairn islands, the Dutch East Indies and whatever comes up. Eighteen months of sailing and adventure ahead, with never a bell, telephone, traffic tieup or tax collector in sight. Eighteen months of release from desk and shop and the daily grind.

Not until April, 1941, will the Yankee and its lucky crew tie up at the Gloucester docks. What new crisis will have come and faded, what disputes old and new will have been resolved while the Yankee and the world are at sea make fascinating conjecture in this sort of weather. Mr. Roosevelt and the third term will cease to be our major mystery. The presidential prospects of Messrs. Vandenberg, Dewey, Taft, McNary and allied enigmas will puzzle no longer and we shall know what John L. Lewis will do for or to Burton K. Wheeler. It is possible that Hitler will learn what Stalin is up to and maybe Mussolini will know what's best for Mussolini.

An economist says manufacturers should resist to the utmost price advances for finished goods. That is new. Hitherto the consumer has done the resisting.

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

YESTERDAY. Convinced that they have come to the University for a purpose and that Michael is holding out on her, Tuck decides to investigate. She invents a pretext for calling on Mrs. Murchison, who formerly lived in their house.

"Yes?"

"And she said, very slowly—'So I'll call him back then. I cannot get an answer in a week.'"

Nocturnal Prowling

THAT night, failing to sleep late, Tuck dreamed of walking past a gigantic rock crusher, which rumbled menacingly and then fell suddenly across her feet. When she struggled to dislodge it she awoke, to find Agamemnon purring happily and digging his claws into the eiderdown over her knees. She reached down, slapped his paws, patted his head and composed herself to sleep again when an idea struck her which wakened her like a dash of ice water.

What was the cat doing here?

She remembered distinctly putting him out herself after all the doors and windows were locked; and yet, here he was!

With a thumping heart she reached out cautiously and turned on the little lamp beside her bed. Michael was sleeping peacefully with his back turned, and she had [illegible] floor be[illegible] him.

is appended much additional data. In these pages you allege that you have been informed of the commission by hundreds of citizens, including public officials, of multifarious crimes. In connection with your allegation that public officials (whom you do not name) have received over a million dollars in bribes annually, you state that you cannot personally verify any of the information regarding the individuals charged, and that knowledge thereof is not your actual knowledge, but is merely information furnished you to which you cannot subscribe to its truth. This brief summary should to any candid mind be satisfactory explanation why it was impossible for me to comply with your peremptory request that I take 'prompt and immediate' action in the premises and file informations against any public officials or private persons. I hope that you understand fully the gravity of accusing innocent persons of crime, and that the stigma that follows false accusations even after vindication, causes irreparable suffering not only to the accused, but, also, to the families. A district attorney must perform his duties fearlessly, but he must guard against overzealousness and its resulting injustices.

"The complaints you have filed with me do not justify the filing of informations, because of their vagueness. An information is not an indictment. It must charge a specific person with the commission of a clearly stated crime on a certain date, or at least within reasonable limits. This data you have not given me therefore, to [illegible] I will have [illegible] prosecutions [illegible] insufficient [illegible] upon which juries [illegible] because they [illegible] unwarranted acquittals.

"Considering the great number of crimes you have [illegible] committed by [illegible] persons with [illegible] you do [illegible] the task before me is of [illegible] but I will [illegible] and careful [illegible] prosecute [illegible] of race, [illegible] any other [illegible] very [illegible] standing [illegible] to attack [illegible] operation and that of every other credible and reputable person.

"Mature study of your allegations and long intensive reflection have convinced me that a public investigation [illegible] the following reasons, would [illegible] the difficulties to be surmounted and obstruct the processes of justice. Public investigations of crime cause timid witnesses to withhold material testimony. It affords an opportunity to suspects to tamper with prospective witnesses either by intimidating them or bribing them to commit perjury, to leave the jurisdiction of the courts. It subjects innocent persons under investigation to unnecessary humiliation and public notoriety. It puts suspects on notice [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] to attack [illegible] your [illegible] to [illegible] It affords publicity mongers the opportunity to engage in pernicious self-exhibitionism, and partisan purveyors of publicity to emphasize those parts of the testimony favorable to their temporary policy and minimize or suppress those opposed to it. In sensational cases, such as those you allege, it divides the public from which trial jurors are selected into two partisan groups one favoring the state, and the other the culprits, especially during times like the present.

"I will therefore investigate your multifarious accusations with the cooperation of the grand jury. Within a very few days our supreme court will render its decision fixing the status of our grand jury, and then I will immediately request the honorable Judge George P. Platt, who, according to the law, has the grand jury in his charge and control, to order it to convene. The district attorney has not the power to convene it. At its first session I will place before it your petition and all your accusations and documents. I will request it to summon as witnesses before it you and all other persons you may name. I will invoke all necessary legal processes to insure a full and fair investigation."

JAPAN STARTS NEW OFFENSIVE IN SOUTH CHINA

BIG-SCALE MILITARY DEVELOPMENTS PROMISED

(By Associated Press)

Japanese landing forces today started a new south China drive that promised major military developments sooner than Europe's stalemated western front, where highly equipped armies of the great powers face one another in relative inactivity.

Combined army and navy forces landed near Pakhoi, on the Kwangtung coast, and headed inland against Chinese defenders.

The scene of the new Japanese drive apparently aimed at getting a stronger grip on the south China coast, is only 75 miles east of French Indo-China and about 300 miles west of British Hongkong.

Japan "will adhere strictly to the policy hitherto pursued toward third powers," the Tokyo foreign office announced.

Japan's last offensive, a southward push in Hunan province, was revived by the Chinese after bitter fighting early in October.

The European war moved along principally as a conflict at sea, an economic battle and a war of nerve.

France said there was "reduced activity during the night" on the western front and Germany reported "no special events except minor local artillery fire."

A German submarine, credited by the German high command with sinking 26,000 tons of enemy shipping, returned to her base escorting an unidentified prize vessel.

New trouble flared in the protectorate which Germany created out of former Czecho-Slovakia. Two thousand Czech students demonstrated against the government over the death of a 24-year-old student, but were dispersed before clashing with police.

Finland greeted her delegates who returned from Moscow after failing to reach any agreement with Soviet Russia over Russian demands for territorial concessions.

Commenting on an official Soviet news agency dispatch that Finland would be forced to terms within seven months, Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, chief of the Finnish delegation, said, "such calculations are obviously erroneous. We can hold out much longer."

but it will have likewise demonstrated the best of reasons why close inter-American cooperation of this character should continue in the future in times of peace as well as in times of war."

The advisory committee has decided to take under consideration these matters:

1. To make immediate studies of any problem of a monetary, foreign exchange or balance of international payments nature presented by any of the American republics.

2. To study means of assuring stability in monetary and commercial relationships among the republics.

3. To provide for exchange of commercial and financial information.

4. To propose measures for offsetting dislocations in the trade of the American republics affected by the war.

5. To establish a customs truce in the western hemisphere, to reduce duties and eliminate trade restrictions.

6. To create an inter-American institution to insure permanent financial cooperation among the republics' treasuries and central banks.

7. To increase importation and consumption of products of the American republics through lower prices, better transportation and credit facilities.

8. To organize an inter-American commercial institute to keep importers and exporters in touch with one another.

9. To establish new industries and negotiate commercial treaties for the interchange of raw materials.

10. To use silver as one medium for international payments.

ator Wagner, Democrat, New York, has pending a bill to carry it out.

2. More adequate aid for the needy aged, with particular emphasis on how to correct inequalities between the wealthier states and the poorer ones.

3. Liberalizing unemployment insurance benefits, which McNutt believes now are "uneven and in many cases too small."

4. Possible further changes in the system of old age insurance under which employers and workers each contribute one per cent of an employe's annual pay up to $3,000.

Old age insurance is distinct from the old age assistance program under which the federal government pays half of each state's contribution to needy persons over 65 up to a total of $40 a month.

Few states pay even as high as $30 a month, and some have total pensions of $10 or less. McNutt was reluctant to give his views on how the poorer states should be helped, especially since congress turned down proposals last summer for larger federal contributions.

FLAMES SWEEP THROUGH TOWN IN VENEZUELA

tives were supplied at the new town with free water, gas and light service, they did not like it and failed to move in great numbers.

Today the oil companies supplied transportation to move the refugees from the burned town to Ciudad Ojeda. Temporary quarters also were established hastily in the nearby town of Bachquero.

Recovery of the bodies of the victims, many of whom were believed to have been children, was hindered by the debris which covered the water. Approximately 100 bodies had been recovered last night, and authorities could only guess at the number still lying beneath the wreckage.

Hundreds of weeping survivors who lost relatives in the holocaust lined the shores as the search progressed.

The house of the fire, under investigation by a special commission composed of three cabinet ministers, remained uncertain, but was generally attributed to the explosion of a kerosene lamp in one of the shacks.

So swiftly did the flames sweep through the stilt village that hundreds were trapped in their homes without a chance to reach the shore.

The surface of the lake, continually covered with a film of oil, was transformed into a fiery cauldron which cut off all chance of escape. The flames, roaring high above the surface of the water, balked rescue attempts.

Witnesses said that one launch which attempted to approach the burning village was engulfed by the flames and sank with all aboard.

An off-shore wind, which swept the fire out into the lake, speeded destruction of the houses, about 200 of which were grouped in an area equivalent to one or two city blocks. A bridge, connecting the houses with the shore was quickly destroyed.

Oil company properties in the vicinity of Lagunillas, which is located about 30 miles from the seaport of Maracaibo in the heart of Venezuela's rich petroleum country, were reported undamaged.

Three major producers—Royal Dutch Shell, Standard of New Jersey and Gulf Oil corporation—have terminals in the Lake Maracaibo region. Much of Venezuela's annual production of about 188,000,000 barrels is handled through Lagunillas and the neighboring towns of La Roza, Cabimas and La Salina.

At Lagunillas, oil piped from inland and from wells drilled in the bed of the lake is loaded on small tankers for conveyance across the shallow bar at Maracaibo to ocean-going tankers in the harbor.

NEW ORLEANS WOMAN FORMERLY IN LAGUNILLAS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Bettie Conrad, who until six weeks ago lived in Lagunillas, Venezuela, said today that hundreds of persons must have been trapped by the fire which swept over the oil town.

"Nearly all the native houses were built of wood with mud plastered over them," she said. "They were very flimsy."

She said she was sure some Americans were in the town but "most of them lived in camps away from the beach, but some of the drillers and workers stayed in the town."

She said Lake Maracaibo was always covered by oil. Mrs. Conrad, 27 years old, left the town six weeks ago with her husband, who was employed by an oil company.

FORMER RESIDENT RECALLS EARLIER FIRE

ABILENE, Tex., Nov. 15.—(AP)—The disastrous blaze which swept Lagunillas, Venezuela, reminded Jerome L. Gunn of a fire which razed the same village 10 years ago this month.

The 1929 death toll, never definitely fixed, was between 18 and 35. American oil field workers piped live steam from their boilers to help peons combat th efire, which burned itself out in about four hours.

Ninety-five per cent of the village was destroyed in 1929.

Gunn, an Abilene jeweler, was stationed at Lagunillas in 1929 as chief field clerk for Gulf Oil corporation. Americans then were protected from rounding their colony, five feet blow rounding their colony, five feet below the level of Lake Maracaibo.

that a fellow Indianan of Van Nuys—Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator—would try to win Democratic convention delegates in many of the 12 states which use the primary system.

The only states omitted, it was said reliably, would be ones where a bitter contest with a favorite son might result or where other unfavorable circumstances prevailed.

McNutt was reported likely to stay out of the primary in Ohio. Senator Donahey, Democrat, Ohio, has been mentioned as a possible recipient of that state's Democratic presidential preference.

Friends of McNutt reiterated that his candidacy was contingent on Mr. Roosevelt's intentions and that the security administrator would leave the race if the president entered it.

In contrast, E. B. Gemrany, campaign manager for Vice-President Garner, has declared that the latter is in the presidential race to win.

Despite the indications that both McNutt and Mr. Roosevelt would stay out of the Ohio primary, the filings for that contest may bring into the open other presidential candidacies now behind the scenes.

Ohio's election law requires that each candidate for election as a convention delegate must file a statement disclosing his first and second choices for the presidential nomination of his party. The name of no candidate for the presidency may be used in such statements, however, without his written consent.

Notice of delegate candidacies must be filed at least 60 days before the Ohio primary, which occurs the second Tuesday in May. This means that presidential candidates desiring to figure in the balloting must give consent publicly early in March.

The earliest of the presidential primaries is scheduled in New Hampshire the second Tuesday in March. Since the names of presidential candidates do not have to appear on the ballots there, the significance of this voting may not be so apparent.

Only the Napoleonic wars and the World war had any marked effect on the level of world prices, say Cornell university economists.

5 QUESTIONED IN O'HARE'S DEATH

men because of a falling out between O'Hare and "the boys."

Among those questioned yesterday were Municipal Judge Eugene J. Holland and Johnny Patton, secretary-treasurer and largest stockholder of Sportsman's park. Judge Holland said his connections with O'Hare were in a joint real estate venture, with others, and that he had never heard O'Hare's name linked to Capone or other gangsters. Patton told investigators he had known Capone for many years but never had business dealings with him and that no Capone hoodlums had any interest in Sportsman's park.

Predecessor to Sportsman's was the Hawthorne dog track and in the 1930 income tax evasion trial of Jack Guzik, a Capone lieutenant, it developed that Guzik, Capone and Capone's family were stockholders in the Hawthorne track which O'Hare once managed.

DEMONS WILL MEET OUACHITA FRIDAY

NATCHITOCHES, La., Nov. 15 (Special)—Leaving the S. I. A. A. loop which they lead with five victories and no defeats, the Louisiana State Normal college Demons will meet a non-conference foe this week on their home field when they clash with the Ouachita college Tigers of Arkadelphia, Ark., Friday afternoon.

With victories over teams from Mississippi, Texas and Kentucky, the Demons will be pointing to their fifth interstate win Friday and their ninth triumph of the season. The contest here this week will mark the third game to be played by the Demons on their new gridiron and the first football engagement between elevens from the two institutions.

Coming out of their 19 to 0 conquest last Saturday of the Murray Teachers, champions of the S. I. A. A. circuit for the last two years, with only one major casualty, the Demons went through a light workout Monday and a heavy drill Tuesday in preparation for the Arkansas eleven.

Woodrow Miller, junior first-string right tackle, received a leg injury Saturday that will keep him on the sidelines Friday and probably on the bench for two weeks. Sam Scurria, junior first-string center, is still out with a leg injury incurred in the Stephen F. Austin tilt two weeks ago, as is Roy Gentry, senior right tackle, who has his right elbow dislocated in the Louisiana college contest a month ago. Woodrow Wright, sophomore tackle, whose leg was injured in the Louisiana Tech clash three weeks ago, will be able to play Friday, the coaches stated Tuesday.

TENNESSEE GETS TOP PLACE 4TH STRAIGHT WEEK

Perfect Record Of Neyland Eleven Too Much For Poll Opponents

By Bill Boni

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP)—"A team that won't be beaten can't be beaten," runs football's favorite fighting phrase. Today you can add to that, "and a team that can't be scored on won't be ousted from first place in the national football rankings."

Admittedly Tennessee's schedule isn't up to the caliber of those of Texas A. and M., Southern California or Notre Dame. Yet the Volunteers have come through seven games this fall, as well as their last five last season, without having their goal line crossed. That convincing argument, plus the high esteem in which they are held by all who have seen them perform, keeps the Vols at the head of the parade in the fifth Associated Press ranking roll.

They are there for the fourth straight week, topping the list by 66 first-place votes and 1,054 points to 28 first-place votes and 857 points for Texas Aggies. Together, these two high-geared machines drew all but 19 of the 113 first-place ballots cast by the nation's experts.

While Tennessee held first place safe and unbeaten and untied Duquesne moved in with the edge at last place in the top ten. Texas A. and M. improved its position [illegible] Hunter Norton's Southwest conference leaders, aiming at the No. 1 spot won for the Southwest in 1938 by Texas Christian, showed an increase of 22 first-place votes over last week and ran their second-place margin from two points to [illegible].

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Laggard stocks followed the upward lead of business today, but buyers entered the market only in small groups.

Gains of fractions to full points were spread all over the big board toward the fourth hour. The advances, however, were timid—and so were the traders.

The ticker tape traveled at a snail-like pace and one analyst—typical of many in Wall Street—expressed the opinion:

"The path of least resistance is likely to prove to be upward."

The shares of capital goods industries led the creeping advance.

Leaders in the rise included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Chrysler, Gobrich, Anaconda, Allied Chemical, United Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, United Air Lines, du Pont, Santa Fe and Southern Railway.

Curb prices moved upward sympathetically and at a correspondingly slow pace with leading gainers including Newmont Mining, Sherwin Williams, Quaker Oats, Singer Manufacturing, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing and Penn Seaboard.

The end of the "political truce" in Washington and the consequent outlook for legislation as to whether President Roosevelt [illegible] to run for a third term was [illegible] interest in Wall Street, but no one appeared certain as to whether the present apathy of the market bore much relationship to the domestic political scene.

FOR Children's SNIFFLES

SPARE your child much of the misery of sniffling, sneezing, and smothery nostrils due to colds by inserting Mentholatum in his nostrils.

This gentle ointment soothes and protects irritated mucous membrane, reduces swelling, and thus opens breathing passages wider. It soon checks sneezing and sniffling.

Also rub Mentholatum on the child's chest, back, and neck. This will improve local blood circulation and help relieve cold discomforts more effectively.

Mentholatum helps in so many ways that you should always remember this: For Discomforts of Colds—Mentholatum. Link them together in your mind.
